Do you want your clients to heal faster and deeper with less stress?

We'll help you learn mind-body methods that can rapidly heal trauma, reduce anxiety, enhance performance and more. We've trained over 16,000 professionals just like you.

"Clients are delighted with the results of energy psychology. They see that they can actually change things within themselves instead of just dissecting them, which is so common in conventional approaches. They may have been able to cope better as a result of conventional methods, but they didn't experience the deep, transformational change that comes from energy psychology work. They often feel a profound sense of wholeness and well being they have never felt before." – Heather LaChance, PhD, DCEP

The # 1 reaction to attending for the first time is,
"I'm home. I've found my community."
